

The media bias in this country has just gotten too out of hand. Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air "Stolen Honor" days before the election is unjust, unfair, and down right disappointing. This is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Public interest must be served by law on these public airwaves, and I do not believe that this is happening with this decision. The propaganda is simply absurd. Just because large companies own these airwaves, does not give the companies the right to force their own bias. I am perfectly understanding of wanting to air different political views, but in order to do so, media outlets must be fair to all sides. It seems to me, that the Sinclair station does not realize how impressionable its viewing audience is, or if they do, they are truly making a horrible decision in airing this program. The FCC needs to step up and help those in small communities and citizens of the US, so they can all hear a simple news story with out being bombarded by propaganda and muck raking. Please, help show the Sinclair station what's right. Do not let them air the anti-Kerry documentary "Stolen Honor", or if they do, make sure the also air a pro-Kerry program like "Going Upriver" I thank you for your time.
